What is the Resurrection?

A vibrant landscape photograph featuring a field of red flowers in the foreground and a golden field in the background under a bright sun. The text "What happens When I die?" is overlaid in a stylized, 3D purple font.

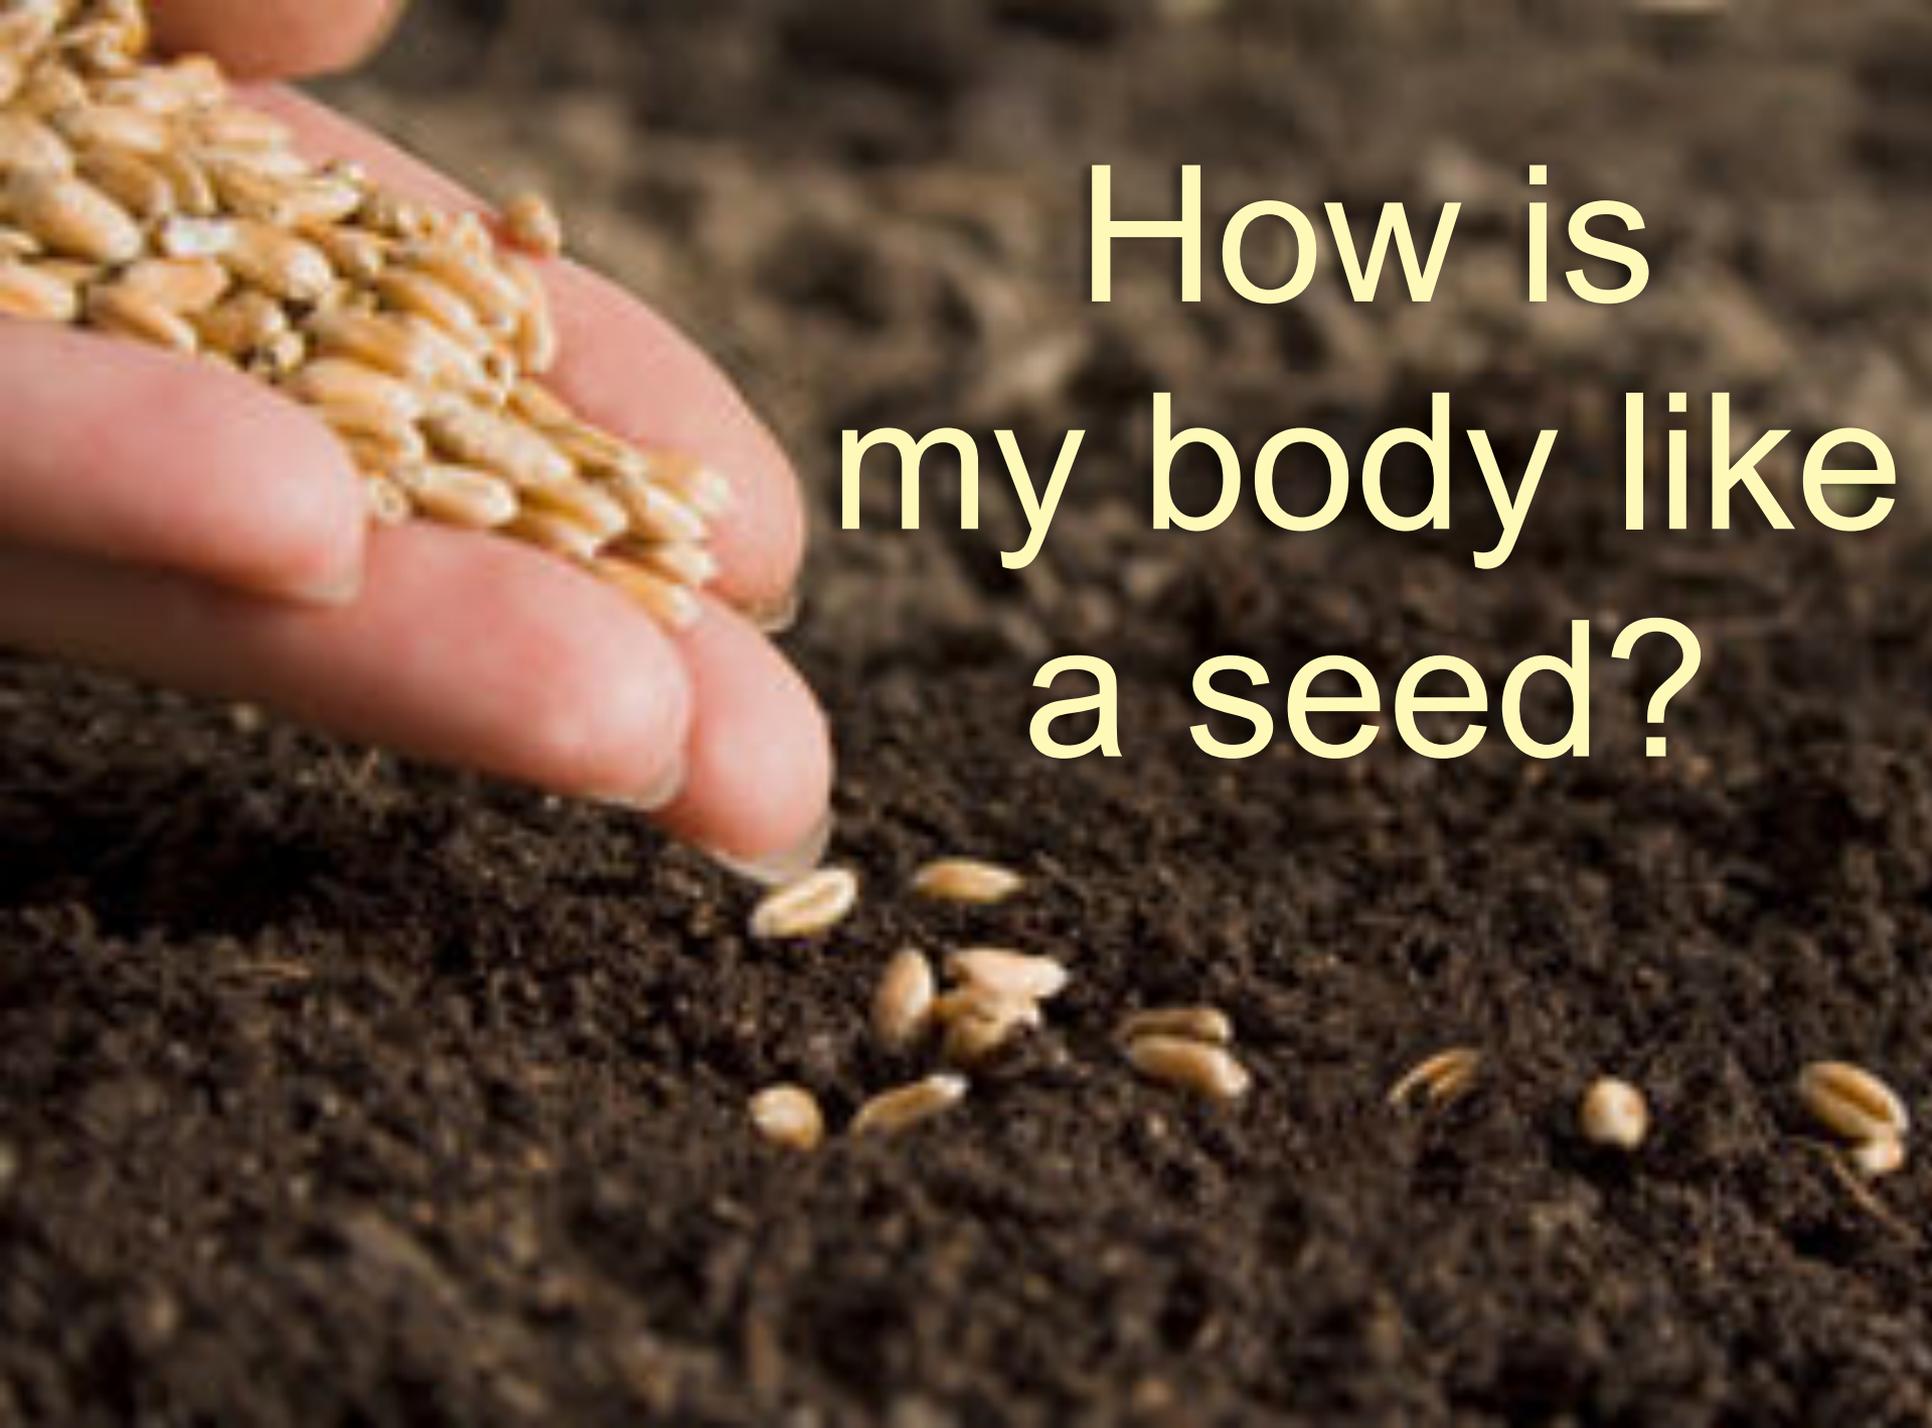

What happens
When I die?

The image features a bright, sunny outdoor scene. In the foreground, there is a dense field of red flowers, possibly lupines, with green leaves. The background consists of a vast, golden-yellow field, likely a wheat or cornfield, stretching towards a horizon under a bright sun that creates a lens flare effect. The overall atmosphere is warm and positive.

What happens to My Spirit?

The image features a bright, sunny outdoor scene. In the foreground, there is a dense field of red flowers, possibly lupines, with green leaves. The background consists of a vast, golden-yellow field, likely a wheat or corn field, stretching towards a horizon under a bright sun that creates a lens flare effect in the upper right corner.

What happens to My Body?

How is my body like a seed?
